

RACISM. IT STOPS WITH ME

14 May 2014

Welcome to our latest supporter update!

Campaign to continue post June 2015

We are delighted to announce that the Racism. It Stops With Me campaign, which was due to end in June 2015 will be continuing beyond its original three-year timeframe.

We welcome your continued support as we build upon what we've achieved over the last three years.

Request for organisational supporter video messages

If you're an organisational supporter, we would like to invite you to share the story of your involvement in the campaign. We are looking for organisations to send short videos (30 – 60 seconds) explaining what influenced them to join the campaign, what they have done as part of their support and what the impact of the campaign has been for their organisation or community. These videos will be displayed on our website and shared through social media.

Organisations that submit videos will also be sent a merchandise pack as a show of our thanks for their work.

Get in touch to find out more.

Race Discrimination Commissioner to celebrate 40 years of the Racial Discrimination Act

To mark the 40th anniversary of the Racial Discrimination Act, on 11 June 2015 the Race Discrimination Commissioner will host an event at the Australian Human Rights Commission in Sydney. This event will include the launch of the Commissioner's new book, I'm not racist but... 40 years of the Racial Discrimination Act (NewSouth Publishing), by the Hon Fred Chaney AO.

For more information and to RSVP, download this flier.

Supporter of the month

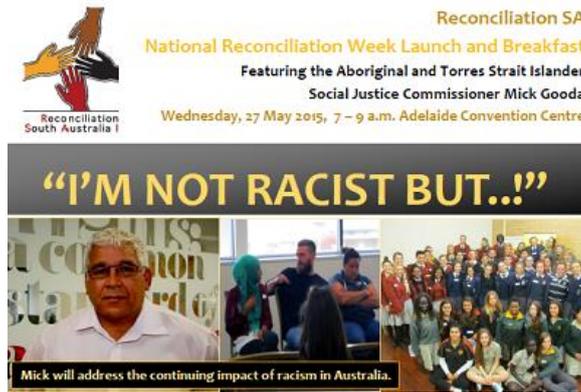

Well done to the University of Western Australia for creating and sharing this great 'And Me' graphic.

Download it here or from our website to help share the message that racism stops with all of us!

Supporter Activities

Reconciliation South Australia is holding the National Reconciliation Week Launch and Breakfast on Wednesday 27 May at the Adelaide Convention Centre. Download the event flier for more information.

The Migrant Resource Centre of South Australia, White Ribbon Australia, Myriad Consultants and the Settlement Council of Australia are running a series of training workshops for men from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds on preventing gender-based violence.

The workshops aim to promote understanding of the value of involving men in gender-based violence prevention, increase men's ability to take action to challenge gender-based violence and increase the capacity of men to work together as allies for violence prevention.

Find out more about the workshops by downloading this flier.

The University of Western Sydney is hosting the 2015 Advancing Community Cohesion: Towards a National Compact conference on 15-17 July 2015.

The conference will examine international best practice for dealing with national and local issues regarding social cohesion. More information can be found on the conference website.

FECCA is holding its biennial conference in November 2015 in Sydney. The conference, entitled Multiculturalism in Action: Building a better future for all Australians, will draw together leading decision makers, thinkers and practitioners to discuss and debate key issues that relate to Australian multiculturalism.

More information about the conference can be found here.

Remember to keep us updated about your activities if you'd like to feature in our next supporter newsletter